Attempted Phone Scam

On April 10, 2014 Manassas City Police met with a resident on the 10200 block of Calypso Dr for a report of an attempted fraud. The reporting party told officers that she received a phone call from a male who claimed to be an officer working for the "Warrants Division" of a local police department. The caller told the resident that there were warrants out for her arrest, and to have the charges dropped she could provide him with a sum of money using prepaid money cards. The caller told the resident that if she did not meet him with the payment at a specific time and place, she would be arrested. The resident did not comply.
