Educational Attainment

We will be a city that partners with the education and business community to create an innovative, engaging, inspiring and challenging learning environment for all students and adult learners that fuels the workforce of tomorrow.

Why it matters

An individual’s level of education has a direct impact on income, skills and the opportunities that people have to lead healthier lives in their community, and its importance cannot be overstated. In Manassas, only 81.3% of the City’s population has a high school degree or higher compared to 88.8% in Prince William County and 89% in Virginia. Accordingly, Manassas residents ranked the quality of education as one of their top priorities in the 2018 Citizen Satisfaction Survey and only 55% of residents rate the City satisfactory “as a Place to Raise & Educate Children,” compared to 70% of residents across the U.S. that were asked the same question about their communities.
